MURPHY'S LAW: Yrs Truly, the Racing Beagle asks: Want to bet that when the builders of the Middle Ground Lighthouse were fighting the elements, working weird hours, and endangering their very lives, they did not realize they were building a . . . sailboat race mark! Recently, MGL was rounded this weekend by Sunfish and other dinghies, and last weekend by Hampton Annual MGL big boats. And, it ain't over yet. On October 16th the 'Round the Light Race fleet will be circling the grand structure. MGL is actually a hard working aid to navigation stationed where the James River, the Elizabeth River and Hampton Roads harbor slosh together. As far as we know MGL has a stellar performance record - always in the right place at the right time! /S/ Murphy the Racing Beagle, the sailing spirit in us all.
