Things Could Not Have Been Finer at the Albemarle Challenge Cup Sailing Regatta, in Carolina. This regatta, sailed on the heels of Hurricane Ian 10 days ago, was held at Albemarle Plantation (Hertford, NC) and hosted by Osprey Yacht

Watch for this event to return in 2023 – most likely close to the first or second week in October. Remember, like the song says, “Nothing could be finer than to be in Carolina. . . ” (NOTE: Words from “Carolina in the Morning”: words by Gus Kahn and music by Walter Donaldson, first published in 1922 by Jerome H. Remick & Co.)

Chuck Monsees, winner of his fleet at the Albemarle Challenge Cup Sailing Regatta (above), is an old friend of and raced in the southern Bay Hampton Roads racing community. Chuck’s J29, ROCKETTE, was a familiar and successful competitor on the race course, until. . . the TORNADO at the 2012 SBRW targeted her and dealt her significant damage – too significant to go on. Rockette was done. But, obviously, Chuck was not done and continues to this day to race in his home waters of eastern North Carolina.
